ALL SORTS.

—Purchase your dog tags now.
—The weather service predicts local rains.
—Mrs. Scoville is visiting relatives in this city.

—Ben Palmer the Genoa politician is in the city.
—Dr. Davison has hatched a four legged chicken from an incubator.

—The new electric dynamo for the 12 o'clock circuit is nearly ready to start up.

—The funeral of Geo. Y. Constock was attended by many friends yesterday.

—A cutting affray at Tahoe city recently resulted in the carving of a Chinese cook.

—The wife of Capt. Todman and mother of Mrs. C. C. Goodman is convalescing at Salt Lake.

—The Stockton Mail is printing articles about the bible for the benefit of its Stockton readers whose knowledge of the book is considerably limited.

—Wells Drury and Miss Emma Bishop will be married this evening at Reno. Miss Bishop is the daughter of Dr. Bishop, Superintendent of the Insane Asylum.

Send to the Bell Conservatory, Sacramento, for half a dozen of their Grand Carnations, 35 cents each. Ever-blooming roses 35 to 50 cents each, all in pots. a28*

—The marriage ceremony of Prince Henry and Princess Irene, took place yesterday in the chapel of the Charlottenberg yesterday. The Emperor Frederick and the Dowager Empress Augusta were present.

—It is reported that Dr. Kirby is to build a hotel, or at least some cottages at Emerald Bay. Mr. Kirby is the owner of a large tract of land at the head of the bay and it is one of the most beautiful spots on the lake.

—It is stated that John Howell, late manager of the Reno Reduction Works, resigned his position to accept a similar position in Australia at a salary of $10,000 a year, and will leave for the scene of his future labors the latter part of the month.

—In chronic diseases, medicines should be restoring, and not debilitating, in their action. The wonderful strengthening and curative effects, realized from the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, sustain the reputation of this remedy as the most popular blood purifier.

—Malarial poisons contain the germs of dangerous diseases. If these poisons accumulate in the system, Typhoid, Bilious, Intermittent or Chill Fever is sure to follow. Ayer's Agree Cure is a warranted specific for malaria.

—Great bargains in Groceries and Provisions, largest stock, best and freshest assortment and lowest prices.

Goods delivered free to any part of the county.

G. T. DAVIS, Corner of Carson and 6th. St. Carson.

—“My Dear,” said a Carson man to his wife, “are you aware of the fact that a man's brain weighs three and one-half pounds?”

“You've read that somewhere haven't you?”

“Yes.”

“Well, doesn't the article read that a woman's brain is somewhat lighter; and, of a much finer quality.”

“It certainly does.”

“Well, then, just concentrate your three and a half pound intellect on this list of items and go straight down to Olcovich Bros., no other place will do, and buy these goods. Don't forget that barrel of sugar, or the shoes for myself. They keep the best assortment of General Merchandise of any firm in the State.” Go to,

THE MORMONS' TEST OATH.

Its Constitutionality to be Tested.

The last session of the Legislature passed a bill providing for a test oath which was intended to encroachments of the Mormons in the politics of this State.

It provided that voters before having their names placed on the register list must take an oath to the effect that they held no allegiance to the church of Latter Day Saints and did not practice polygamy.

So far none of the Registry agent have required this test and it is a question among lawyers whether or not the failure to require this test in the advertised call for registration and election would not invalidate the same.

Therefore the Secretary of the State has refused to include the test oath in the call and Mr. Wells the Governor's Private Secretary has begun a mandamus suit to compel the same. This will make a test case and bring the matter before the Supreme Court.

The writ is returnable June 2nd., that it may be decided in time to be acted on.

Rogers-Kissane.

The sequel to the Kissane-Rogers expose, which aroused the people of this Coast about a year ago, was developed recently in the County Clerk's office of San Francisco by the commencement of a suit by Sallie C. Hart, against William K. Rogers, alias Kissane.

The plaintiff is the wife of Jesse B. Hart, the attorney, who died a short time ago. She alleges that in August 1880, her husband was employed by Rogers to go from this State to the States of New York and Arkansas and perform for him certain services as attorney and counselor. Mrs. Hart declares that he performed the services “in and about certain legal proceedings against the defendant under the name of William Kissane,” then pending in both the States mentioned. She asserts that the deceased never received any money in payment for his services. She demands judgment for $5,000.

Johnson Sides Alarmed.

Captain Sam and Johnson Sides told a Gazette reporter today that they thought the State authorities should take some steps to apprehend the avenging redskin, Mudge, who has recently sent three or four members of the Washoe tribe of Indians to the happy hunting grounds. The Premier says that unless the murderer is arrested he is fearful that some of his people will be killed, as a Washoe, when on the warpath, delights in shedding the blood of the hated Pinte. Twenty-five years ago the Washoes killed a Pinte on the Ophir grade; nine years ago another Pinte was murdered at Carson, and again four years ago in Carson, a third Pinte bit the dust.—Gazette.

Pledges Kept.

Senator Stewart is making a very splendid record in his high office. Men not half so capable and worthy as he have, before now been elected Presidents of the United States. He is as alert as a lynx as strong as a lion. There is not a better administrative ability than his between the seas, while his capacity to get through work is altogether marvelous. He is vindicating every promise made for him by his friends when he was a candidate.—Salt Lake Tribune.

This is good reading on the face of the assertion so often repeated that Stewart would be in San Francisco during the entire session.

And so March.

The other day the Reno Gazette printed the following: “Youngs Squaws now adays prefer the man who works to the one who cuts a dash.”

The editor Mr. Young wrote young squaws, but the d—errng compositor dropped in an extra S, hence the peculiar reading.

—Haggerty is counted one of the most philosophical cobblers in the city. The words of wisdom which fall from his lips when he is half soleing a pair of shoes is worth more than he charges for the work.

—It is rumored on the street that Jake Klein will go to the St. Louis Democratic National Convention “For Corse.”

HILL'S REVENGE.

How he Slightly Sent the Knife into Cleveland.

The Philadelphia Ledger of the 19th., publishes the following under the head of a special from New York:

It has taken forty-eight hours for the friends of the Administration in this State to realize that although they drove Governor Hill from the field as a candidate at large to St. Louis, the supporters of that wily politician have dealt the President a severe, deep, searching blow under the fifth rib, in the resolution on the tariff question, which was passed by the Convention on the first reading. It appears to be an endorsement of the President's tariff message and the Mills bill, but the history of its construction, of the refusal of the committee to frame it so as to request the members of Congress to vote for the Mills bill and a careful reading of it has caused a howl of indignation to go up from the free traders both here and at Washington. An interview with Congressman Mills appears in to-day's World, in which he intimates that the Democrats of New York will be responsible, through this resolution, for the failure of the Mills bill, if it does fail. The President himself is said to be extremely chagrined at the situation, which he recognizes as a direct slap at the Mills bill, and only a quasi endorsement of himself, as he committed himself to that measure and is using all his power and patronage to force the Democrats in the House to support it. Governor Hill's friends are saying that the man laughs best who laughs last, and predicting that the Administration will be on its knees to Hill before Fall.

James C. Blaine.

New York, May 23.—Blakely Hall cables to the Sun that he met Blaine in his apartments at the Hotel Binda. Hall says it is impossible to imagine a more perfect picture of health. Blaine walks with head erect and shoulders back and has gained in weight. Hall further says Blaine told him that since he has been in Europe he had not authorized or instigated even in the most remote way any newspaper reference to him whatever. He said he had made up his mind at the outset to keep out of the papers, and had done so. He said he would be in Europe till the middle of July and would not talk about the Presidency in any way.

After Blaine had taken a ride he was found at dinner at the Hotel Binda, at which were a few personal friends. He is anxiously awaiting Carnegie's arrival, when he will start on the coaching tour through Scotland.
